

Boys, These Books Are For You! Nonfiction

Selected by HCPL Staff

- J 001.94 H Search for Vile Things, Vol. 1
Inquisitive narrator, Ephemra Churlyshe, explores the world of exotic and fascinating "curiosities," including flowers that smell like rotting meat and sea slugs that vomit on their prey. This is not for someone with a weak stomach.
- J 031.02 B Scholastic Book of Lists 2
More than 250 new, fun, and fact-filled lists packed into the covers of this book...
- J 031.02 M Children's miscellany: useless information that's essential to know
Curious about how to beat an alligator in a fight, or how to speak in secret code, or which insects are edible? Then this is the book for you!
- J 387.28 F Lightship
Once, lightships anchored on waters across America, on the oceans, and in the Great Lakes, floating where lighthouses could not be built. Smaller than most ships, but more steadfast, too, they held their spots, through calm and storm, to guide sailors toward safe waters.
(9781416924364)
- J 398.2 S Cinderella Skeleton
A hilarious fractured fairy tale about the traditional Cinderella story, but set in a graveyard with a cast of skeleton characters.
- J 398.2 S Stories to Solve: Folktales from Around the World
Each of these 14 folktales is a short puzzle to be solved through cleverness, common sense or careful observation. Have fun and good luck!
- J 398.25 S Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark
There is a story here for everyone -- skeletons with torn and tangled flesh, who roam the earth; a ghost who takes revenge on her murderer; and a haunted house where every night a bloody head falls down the chimney.
- J 398.45 C Imagine You're a Wizard!
Did you know that some wizards are young and good-looking, while others are old with long beards? Or that all wizards are clever and bossy and love showing off? You will find many answers in this book for budding young wizards.
- J 507.8 L Sports Science
Uncover the principles that underlie everything that is baseball, basketball, biking, skiing surfing, and swimming.

- J 594.38 C Wolfsnail: A Backyard Predator
Big, strong, and fast (for a snail), the wolfsnail has a taste for meat. In some areas, it is called the cannibal snail. It has earned the name.
- J 595.44 R Hairy Tarantulas
Read about these fascinating creatures, if you dare!
- J 599.773 G Wolves Are Back
Wolves have been persecuted in the United States and have nearly become extinct. Since then they have gradually been reintroduced and are now thriving again.
- J 600 C Cool Stuff and How It Works
From microchips and iPods to robots in the human bloodstream, this book will take you on an eye-opening journey through the world of modern technology.
- J 612.36 G The Truth About Poop
Take a look at life before toilet paper and modern toilets; try some poop games, and see how poop was used in warfare.
- J 796.332 M John Madden's Heroes of Football
From its beginnings as an Ivy League-college pastime in the 19th century to one of the most popular spectator sports in the United States, this book shows the development of the game and identifies key players and teams.
- J 796.357 B B is for Baseball: Running the Bases from A to Z
From the number of stitches on a baseball, to the longest game on record, to the three historic players who are known to have been the perfect infield combination, you will find it all here waiting for you!
- JB Houdini C Harry Houdini for Kids: His Life and Adventures with 21 Magic Tricks and Illusions
Learn how Houdini devised his most legendary stunts along with the science and logic behind many of his tricks.